SaniSorb® revolutionizes how medical professionals handle biohazardous fluids, offering a safe, effective, and economical solution for waste management. Designed with the healthcare industry in mind, it solidifies liquid waste quickly, minimizing exposure to harmful substances while reducing the risk of cross-contamination.

Unlike traditional medical waste solutions, the particulate-free design ensures dust-free operation, eliminating bacterial exposure and making it a safer choice for medical staff. Its self-bursting pouches activate instantly upon contact with fluids, enabling seamless containment and immobilization.
